PLAN FOR FINANCIAL RELIEF IS ADOPTED.

Panama Bonds and Certificates of Indebtedness to Be Issued.

President Roosevelt, in Letter Approving Action of Secretary of Treasury, Says the Leaders of Congress Have Under Consideration Currency Measure Which He Believes Will Be Passed at Early Date.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury today made the important announcement that a means of affording relief to the financial situation, the treasury would issue $20,000,000 of Panama bonds, and $100,000,000 of certificates of indebtedness, or so much thereof as may be necessary. The certificates will run for one year and will bear 3 per cent. interest.

The Secretary's action in coming to the relief of the financial situation is commensurate with President Roosevelt's hearty approval.

The plan is the outcome of the several White House conferences which have been held within the past few days, when the financial situation was under consideration.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF.

Secretary Cortelyou says the Panama canal bonds will afford substantial relief, as the law provides that they may be used as a basis for additional national bank circulation.

He also states that the proceeds from the sale of certificates can be made directly available at points where the need is most urgent, and especially for the movement of crops, which, he says, if properly accelerated, will give relief to the entire crop moving district.

The Secretary calls attention to the attractiveness of the bonds as absolutely safe investment. Secretary Cortelyou adds that these relief measures will enable him to meet public expenditures without withdrawing from that purpose any appreciable amount of public money now deposited in national banks throughout the country.

The Treasury circulars, one inviting proposals for the issue of the bonds and the other asking for the certificates, will be sent out under date of November 18.

In his letter to Secretary Cortelyou approving the treasury plans, President Roosevelt states that he has been assured that the leaders in Congress have under consideration a currency measure, "which will meet in permanent fashion the needs of the situation, and which, I believe, will be passed at an early date after Congress convenes two weeks hence."

The President also calls attention to the fact that the people should "realize how fundamentally sound business conditions in this country are, and how absurd it is to permit themselves to get into a panic and create a stringency by hoarding their savings, instead of trusting perfectly sound banks."

FORMAL PROPOSAL.

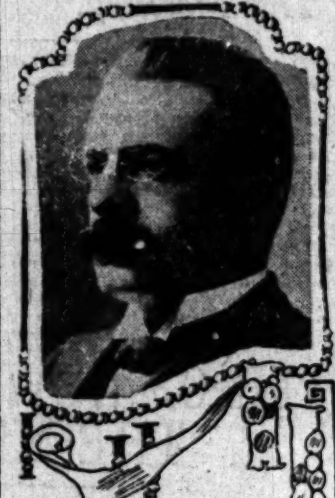

The Treasury circular inviting proposals for Panama Canal bonds reads as follows:

Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary, Washington, Nov. 17, 1907.—The Secretary of the Treasury offers to the public $20,000,000 of the bonds of the Panama Canal loan, authorized by Section 2 of the act approved June 28, 1902, and supplemented by Section

TAFT REACHES
VLADIVOSTOK.

RUSSIAN GUNBOAT ESCORTS THE RAINBOW INTO HARBOR.

American Secretary of War Will Start Journey on Long Railroad Tuesday to St. Petersburg. Where He Will Have Audience With Czar Before Continuing His Tour.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

VLADIVOSTOK, Nov. 17.—Secretary Taft arrived here at noon today on board the converted cruiser Rainbow.

The Rainbow was conveyed by the Russian gunboat detailed to escort them up the harbor. Salutes were exchanged with the land batteries. As the Rainbow steamed in there could be seen the wreck of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer which was sunk during the recent naval mutiny.

The Rainbow anchored off shore, guarded by the Chatsanoga and Galveston, which are part of the party sent to meet the Secretary and his party.

At their departure from Vladivostok over the Trans-Siberian railroad for St. Petersburg, at 7 o'clock on the morning of November 18. An imperial car has been placed at Mr. Taft's disposal for this journey, and the Emperor of Russia has detailed military and naval aides to accompany him.

Gen. Pelagey, the commander of the port, and other naval, military and civil officials called upon Mr. Taft this afternoon. It is probable that from St. Petersburg, Mr. Taft will journey direct to Moscow, and will be in New York on December 7 on the steamer President Grant.

The arrival here of the Rainbow was delayed half a day by a severe northerly gale, which was encountered by the ship on the 15th. The heavy sea caused considerable discomfort, and on the night of the 15th the accidental sounding of the collision signal created some alarm on board.

Mr. Taft was the guest of the wardroom mess of the Rainbow at dinner on the night of the 15th. The Secretary made a brief speech, in which he thanked the officers and crew for the entertainment. A ministerial show was given in his honor, at which the members of the crew were present.

READY TO MEET TAFT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—Montgomery Schuyler, Jr., secretary of the American embassy here, and now acting as chargé d'affaires, received a telegram today from Secretary Taft at Vladivostok, saying he would start on his journey to St. Petersburg on the morning of the 18th. Mr. Taft hopes to reach St. Petersburg at noon on December 3, and he says he must leave here not later than December 1. Mr. Schuyler will be given in his honor, at which the members of the crew were present.

WONT SEE KAISER.

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—Secretary Taft has definitely and finally decided not to visit Emperor William.

He sent a telegram to Charlemagne Tower, the American Ambassador here, two days ago, expressing his regret that he would not be able to see the Emperor in England. To this Mr. Tower replied by a message in which he pointed out certain considerations which might lead Secretary Taft to change his plans. A second telegram has now been received from the Secretary, in which he reaffirms that he is obliged to proceed directly to America, and requesting Mr. Tower to transmit to His Majesty his deep regrets.

Mr. Taft will take steamer at Hamburg early in December.

PRESIDENT INVITES.

Meeting to be Held at White House.

Governors of All States and Territories Are Asked to Attend.

Conservation of Natural Resources the Subject of Discussion.

Chief Executive Says This Is the Greatest Question Before Country.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—President Roosevelt has invited the Governors of States and Territories to meet him at the White House May 13, 14 and 15 next, to discuss the question of conservation of the natural resources of the country.

Invitations are to be extended to the members of both houses of Congress, and to the inland waterways commission.

The importance and manner in which the subject is to be considered are indicated in the President's letter to the Governors, which was made public at the White House today. The letter follows:

"The natural resources of the territory of the United States were, at the time of settlement, richer, more varied and more available than those of any other area on the surface of the earth. The development of these resources has given us for more than a century a rate of increase in population and industry undreamed of by the men who founded our government, and without parallel in history.

"It is obvious that the prosperity we now enjoy rests directly upon these resources. It is equally obvious that the vigor and success, which we desire and deserve for this nation in the future must have this as its ultimate material basis.

"In view of these evident facts, it seems to me time for the country to take account of its natural resources, and to inquire how best they are likely to last. We are prosperous now; we should not forget that it will be just as important to our descendants to be prosperous tomorrow as it is to us to be prosperous today.

"Recently I expressed the opinion that there is no other question before the nation of equal gravity with the question of the conservation of our natural resources, and I added that it is the plain duty of those of us who for the moment are responsible to make inventory of the natural resources which have been handed down to us to forecast as well as we may the needs of the future and to handle the great sources of our prosperity as not to destroy in advance all hope of the prosperity of our descendants.

SOME RESOURCES EXHAUSTED.

"It is evident that the abundant natural resources on which the welfare of this nation rests are becoming depleted and in not a few cases are nearly exhausted. This is true of all portions of the United States; it is especially true of the longer settled communities of the East. The gravity of the situation must, I believe, appeal with special force to the Governors of the States, because of their close relations to the people and their responsibility for the welfare of their communities.

"I have, therefore, decided, in accordance with the suggestion of the inland waterways commission, to ask the Governors of the States and Territories to meet at the White House on May 13, 14 and 15 to confer with the President and with each other upon the conservation of natural resources.

"It gives me great pleasure to invite you to take part in this conference. I am sure that you will be glad to have you select three citizens to accompany you and to attend the convention as your assistants or advisers. I shall also invite the Senators and Representatives of the Sixtieth Congress to be present at the session.

SALVATION ARMY IS SCORED BY PREACHER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) "It is of the nature of treason for American citizens to take the oath of the Salvation Army and bend the knee to Gen. William Booth and tomorrow to his son, Gen. Booth is building up a hierarchy for the Booth dynasty. America should protest against such a power. That of the Sultan of Turkey over his subjects is no more exacting. Such obedience as Gen. Booth requires of his soldiers debauches the intellect. Liberty and free thought in this country are endangered by such an organization."

In these words, Dr. M. M. Mangasarian, Chicago Unitarian preacher, attacked the Salvation Army and its veteran founder today. He further asserted that the great organization is "more after the dollars than after the souls," and that Gen. Booth is building up a great religious sect by the support gathered indiscriminately from persons of other religious denominations.

"My charges specifically center," he said, "on the assertion that the Salvation Army, under the guise of doing religious work, is carrying on a great business enterprise, supported by the people, establishing property holdings and a religious sect in the United States, its only means of support being to beg from the public. It is a great church and business organization—an army of beggars, of vampires, of parasites."

Dr. Mangasarian read from some of Gen. Booth's books, quoting him as demanding of his soldiers "unquestionable implicit obedience," and boasting that "a telegram from me will send any of my soldiers to the uttermost part of the earth."

Dr. Mangasarian compared Gen. Booth to the late John Alexander Dowie, and declared that he holds the immense wealth contributed to the Salvation Army by the general public in his own name.

Visit of Kaiser to King Edward Results in Latter Dropping Policy of Isolation for Former's Empire and Ten Years' Estrangement is Quickly Brought to an End.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

BERLIN, Nov. 17.—The ten years of estrangement between Germany and Great Britain appears to be coming to an end, and the conviction is held in governmental offices in Berlin that the present journey of the German Emperor to England, taking into account the events which led to it, is likely to have a enduring value.

The measures which are now being extended to Emperor William in England were preceded, it is reported here, by the decision on the part of King Edward to discontinue his personal policy of endeavoring to isolate Germany.

The English King came to this conclusion in May. After the international conference at Algeiras had completed its labors this policy of German isolation was looked upon by Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman, the British Premier, and Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, as unfavorable for Great Britain, and incompatible with her aim of peace throughout the world.

Furthermore, there was a feeling of uneasiness among the members of the British Cabinet as to whether King Edward's informal political suggestions to the British ambassadors granted audience by His Majesty, were strictly in accordance with constitutional practice.

Police Seek Young Woman Who Drives Fashionable Team and Collides With Boy.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SAN JOSE, Nov. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A search was instituted today by the police for an unknown young woman, who, while driving a fast pair of horses in a light fashionable rig on East Santa Clara street, ran down and perhaps fatally injured Willie Liebs, the 7-year-old son of Herman W. Liebs.

The horse stepped on the boy's head, laying the scalp open from the eye to the top of the head and fracturing the skull. The lad was coming home from school on his bicycle at the time and turned from the road to the gutter to avoid the woman, who was coming toward him on the same side of the road.

The woman drove on rapidly before witnesses to the accident could learn her name. She refused to allow the boy to be taken in her rig to a drug store.

RECORD SESSION.

Legislature Will Be Expeditions.

Governor Believes Work Will Be Over in Quickest Known Time.

Senator Wolfe Predicts End of the Meeting Within Four Days.

Wilson Case Will Be Taken Up by a Special Committee.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 17.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Gov. Gillett believes that the extra session of the Legislature, which meets Tuesday at Sacramento, will break all records for expedition, and Senator "Eddie" Wolfe of San Francisco hopes it out that the work will be finished in four days.

"There will be no opposition to the measures to be introduced," Wolfe said today, while resting after an arduous day's work on the charter amendments. "I indeed, I look for all the proposed amendments to the State law and for the charter amendments to go through unanimously. When the Legislature is ready for business all the bills and the concurrent resolutions approving the San Francisco charter amendments will be introduced in regular form; consequently I can see no reason why the session should not conclude its labors in four days."

With Supervisor Daniel C. Murphy, chairman of the Charter Amendments Committee, and John Behand, clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Senator Wolfe spent yesterday morning going over the charter amendments, which will provide for issuing bonds for permanent improvements, for allowing the Treasurer of the city to deposit money in banks, and for the increased salaries of firemen and policemen. The force of the Supervisors' office had spent two days preparing the amendments and today the clerk and Supervisor Murphy went over them carefully, so they are all ready to be taken to Sacramento tomorrow.

BILLS PREPARED.

The bills providing for an extension of the time for payment of taxes and legalizing the work of all courts on such special holidays as the present have been prepared by the Attorney General in conjunction with the Governor and a committee from the Bar Association. A number of bills were sent to the State Printer Friday and are being printed in type, and the concurrent resolution covering them will be handed to him early tomorrow, so he will have it ready for the Legislature Tuesday afternoon. Such expeditious work will be the mark of an experienced legislator, without a parallel.

PROGRAMME OF SESSION.

As outlined by Senator Wolfe, the programme for the session will begin with a caucus at 9 o'clock. Tuesday, and opening of the session at 10 o'clock. Two hours will be devoted to organization, or rather reorganization on the lines of the last general session, save for the appointment of attachés and numerous committees. Wolfe will be president pro tem of the Senate. At 3 o'clock the bills and resolution will be before both houses, and will be referred to committees forthwith. The committees will report back favorably, and the bills will be enacted, and the resolution passed without delay. Thereupon, the new acts of the Legislature will become laws.

With such an earnest of the spirit shown by San Francisco officials the State legislators cannot fail to be impressed with the new regime here and the enthusiasm behind the widespread call for the extraordinary session of the Legislature.

Supervisor Murphy will go to Sacramento tomorrow morning with certified copies of the amendments and the bills and will file with the Secretary of State copies of each and a copy duly certified of the official statement of votes filed by the election commission with the clerk of the Supervisors. He will remain in Sacramento until the amendments are acted upon by the Legislature.

EFFECT OF CLIMATE ON LIVER

INTERESTING NEW LIGHT ON A COMMON COMPLAINT. NOTED PHYSICIAN GIVES VALUABLE HINTS.

Commenting on the effects of different climates on the liver, an eminent German specialist who has studied liver trouble at most of the world's climates, writes for the "Lancet" that the liver is the most important organ of the body, and that its condition eventually becomes chronic. He says that in moderate climates he has noticed no many persons having a continual dull and aching pain in the right side of the chest, which is the seat of the liver, and that this condition is usually accompanied by indigestion, constipation and general lack of vitality. He further states that these symptoms eventually result in an enlargement of the liver, which throws all the work of this important organ upon the lungs, heart and kidneys. This is a very serious condition, and he says that it is the duty of the physician to detect it in its early stages, and to treat it with the most effective means. officers and men a trying test in sea fighting, for it is part of the plan outlined for them that they shall clear for action while at sea.

The new plan of fitting battleships with boats, called the "Wright" method, will doubtless be tried on this cruise, which strips the ships of boats of all kinds, sufficient to make passage to and from the shore, on the ground that in action the boats catch the shot and sink from rapid-fire guns and their splinters are more deadly than the fire itself.

A particularly interesting test to be made by the ships is that of trying out the new method of interfering with the transmission of wireless messages from ship to ship. A scientist of Austria claims to have developed a plan whereby an electric current is sent through the apparatus, and in touch with, though not in sight of the fleet, can so mixture the messages that no man can understand them, using other waves of electricity of nullify those carrying messages.

The conditions will be favorable for a rapid and educating cruise, and the only unknown quantity which the ships will have to meet and reckon with is that of electrical discharges on the east coast of South America.

These Sample Aprons at 25 Per Cent Off

Will find today many admirers, and a host of new owners, who appreciate savings, and the opportunity to select suitable gifts for friends "back East," where postage on presents amounts soon to the cost of a gift itself, if heavy articles are sent.

If we didn't tell you, you'd never in the world guess that the fresh aprons on display are samples--they are so clean and daintily white, and so beautifully finished in every particular; yet that accounts for the prices.

Aprons for Nurses, Maids, Afternoon Teas and Chafing Dish Uses. All a Fourth Less

There are the tiny short round or square aprons with little bibs, made of finest Persian lawns or dotted Swiss, for fancy work or afternoon teas; longer ones for general use, and aprons with full length bibs for nurses or maids, daintily trimmed with fine embroideries and laces; some inserted, others edged and inserted.

Fine Sheets in Convenient Sizes

Not many stores can show you the variety of usable sizes in sheets, bolster and pillow cases that we always carry.

Nowadays the longer sheets are very popular. They keep your face away from the blankets and yet tuck in comfortably at the foot.

Pequot sheets are of the best quality, carefully torn by the thread, and beautifully hemstitched--or to be had in plain finish, as well--all regular sizes, and the 2 1/2, 2 3/4 and 3-yard lengths, too.

Highest Grade Linen Sets

After all, it is the LINENS that add attractiveness to the beauty of your silver, your china, your glass; and the linens it is that make the food appetizing. Fancy Thanksgiving dinner off oilcloth.

Here is a store that takes greater pains than you'd ever dream of, to secure for you only all pure linen, and of the very best quality; whether in sets, or by the yard. And we not only buy the regular sizes that every good store has, but the extra sizes--three yards square, and in many different patterns, too--in sets of qualities that will make your eyes sparkle. Prices range from the very lowest it is safe to pay to the fairest prices we can ask for the very finest.

S. R. CROCKETT

command at the Incubus Works, brought up the rear with a couple of candles, which he was about to deposit on the new plane.

"Whee, there," cried Billy; "remember Miss Vida's Broadwood. It was never bought for a stand for your dirty brass-lamp-posts. It has a fancy candlestick of its own, and it stands aside. Wait till I get a newspaper."

The candles at last found a resting place on a side table, and Billy continued to do the honors. "Ye are on your way to the mansion, but since ye did us the obligation to look in, ye will partake. So behold as 'tis likely that ye may be late for supper up yonder at the castle, and the kitchen fire out. But a drop of barley water now, of cowd coffee, will hurt no man at no time of night."

By this time, chiefly from the instinct of obedience, old Dick was in a kind of tremulous state, half alarm, half apology.

"Mr. Kahn," he said, "I hope that ye will take no offence. You have been a good friend to me and mine. And Billy means well. He is my old mate, and in a sense him and me are partners in our little lass upstairs."

"I quite understand," said James Kahn, helping himself liberally to all the goodly provisions—those arranged by Billy, and also to the bread, cheese, and cold meat which Dick had unearthed from Vida's receptacle.

Kahn let his wealth and position drop away with the instantaneousness of a man who, after years of a foreign tongue, begins to speak his own language. Indeed, he felt more at home with these two workmen, there in the heart of the night, and he was glad to escape a very definite peril, there at a great function in the dining-room of Gorm Castle.

Moreover, he had no intention of backing out of his offer. As soon as might be, he put his proposal upon a business basis. If Vida would accept him, he would settle ten thousand pounds upon her on the day of her marriage. He would put Dick Finnian into a cottage of his own, and would arrange their ménage in any way that Vida might wish. No one could do fairer than that. Only, having regard to his present arrangements with Mrs. Romer in the way of business, the master of Gorm Castle was not to be told till after the marriage that at such time as he, James Kahn, should decide to be best for the breaking of the news.

"Witnesser!" Why, as many as they liked—publication of intention in the Journals of his country; registrars, persons—a bishop if they wished it; everything of the surest, loyalist and most binding. It was not that of which he was afraid. The consent of Miss Vida—ah—Bryan.

"Miss Vida Bryan without the 'ah,'" if you please," interrupted Billy, who was in a mood to raise difficulties for all this pleasant scheme, "they were definitely at a standstill."

It was agreed by all parties that nothing could be done without the little Dick, when appealed to, could shed no light on the condition of that half of his daughter's heart for which he was paternally responsible.

"It might be Mr. Morris" (at this James Kahn quivered with desire to sheath the Serb knife in the back of Vic Morris), "or again, it might not. Mr. Morris generally talked with him about pit work, for he had not been there for some time. Then there was that young Calmont, the doctor's lad, him that was working about the drawing offices."

"Fahaw!" said Kahn, dismissing with a wave of his hand poor Phil altogether.

"But," continued Dick, "as for Mr. Kahn, I can't say how Vida took it; but as for myself, I had never thought of such a thing. It has come upon me like a blow."

"Well," said Billy, cheerfully, "what of that, old 'un? The foreign gentleman is not asking you to catch him. I vote that we call down the little colleen herself."

"That's talking," said James Kahn, but his heart beat thickly all the same. He was within a single stride of success. He saw the Romer millions. He saw also the girl, who he had courted by loving according to his kind. The future depended upon that little light thing—a girl's word, a girl's fancy, a girl's liking.

The three men passed a curious quarter of an hour while they waited for Vida to come down. On the table a copy of The Border Advertiser, spread broadly out, sustained the two tall candlesticks which Billy Bryan had so hastily and unworthily compared to lamp-posts.

James Kahn, visibly ill at ease, allowed his eyes to wander here and there about the little parlor, taking in the dado which Vida had painted with a running pattern of roses, hyacinths and red berries. He noticed the new piano, and for a moment it seemed as if he were about to ask a question in that poor cottage house such a thing seemed certainly the gift of a favored lover, and it grieved the foresight of James Kahn that he had not thought of it before.

The Montreal Gurgle.

"Stuyvesant Fish," said a Pittsburgh banker, "is a very slicky person. To get along with him you must be mighty particular about attire—you must shave twice a day—dress for dinner, all that sort of thing. If you don't come up to his standard he is apt to say some very cutting things about you."

"I once sat beside Mr. Fish at a dinner at the Union League in New York. Mr. Fish, when the soup came on, began to cast aspersions on you, and a stout, red-faced chap opposite us, and finally he whispered to me:—

"That man is from Montreal. I can tell it by his accent."

"By his accent?" said I. "But, Mr. Fish, the man hasn't spoken."

"Mr. Fish's lip curled in a scornful smile."

"I had reference," he said, "to the accent with which he eats his soup."

Los Angeles 7, Stars 1.
If yesterday's baseball at the Chutes to the kids the Players' League game was a treat for the fans. The show was all that any one could ask for, for the boys were on their toes all the time and shot the game through in one hour and twenty-five minutes. This is a lot and it was the kind of a game that makes a hit with the fans. Rain threatened to fall about 7 o'clock and with a cold wind blowing about 150 fans turned out, which was a good attendance, considering the conditions.

Of course, the Stars didn't shine very brightly, simply because Hoop pitched a light-ball game, allowing his six hits in nine innings. The Stars used three pitchers in Oscar Jones, McIntyre and McCloskey, and the locals made more than enough runs off Jones. Oscar was hit at the right time in the first three innings, and two errors, a hit by pitcher and a pass helped the runs along.

There is a lot of credit due these "Stars" considering that many of them have not played ball for more than a month. Still they didn't show it in their play, and their two errors were on hard chances. Their real trouble was in trying to hit Hoop and as but three of them got to second base, they didn't do a great deal of business. There were some special plays on either side, for the hitting was clean and there were no very hard chances. The locals simply leaned on Jones in the first three innings and rubbed off enough runs to win with.

The Stars made their only run on McIntyre's pass, Francisco's steal to right, and the fielder's choice that forced Buck at second.
In the first for the locals, Bernard Hoop pitched a safe ball late in the first and in throwing to Jones at the bag, Hoop tossed the ball wide and Bernard ran to second on the error. He advanced on Curd's sacrifice and easily scored when Jake Beckley batted a double over third base. Beckley came in for a long layoff when Kittle batted hit a hot one to center. In the third, Roy Brasher juiced Carlisle's grounder to second. Carlisle took second on Beckley's hit and both advanced on Grady's sacrifice. After Kittle batted was out at first, Jones filled the bases with a pass to Hoop and all three men scored. Kittle's sacrifice double to center, Gray hitting the throw-in by a fast sprint from first base.

Oscar hit the trail after this and gave McIntyre a chance to pitch. Mac paced around and then Carlisle hit him for a triple to the score board for another run. The final one came in the eighth on McIntyre's error, and resulted from strikes by Kille and Bernard and Hoop's out at first. Jimmy Tomas scored as umpire.

TRY DIRECT VIEW TO THE TIMES.
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 10.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Oscar Chavez's Santa Barbara team late afternoon shut out the Printers of Los Angeles, in the Winter League series, in a nine-inning game that, in the sixth, threatened to break up in a free fight. The locals had already scored four runs and the visitors were at the bat. Tony Marcovich fanned and duped his strike-out with umpire Charlie Koppes.

Marching down to the umpire, but in hand, Marcovich looked as if he intended to do some slugging. After a hot flow of words in which Koppes maintained his point, Marcovich dropped his hat and deliberately charged the umpire. The whole crowd went wild and Marcovich, amid further trouble and Marcovich, amid the shouts of the crowd, was put out of the field. The game was notable for the many attitude of the visitors against perfectly fair decisions. The locals scored three in the first; one in each, the fourth, sixth and eighth. The score was 3 to 0. Batteries: Santa Barbara, Ferris and Mangarita; Printers, Tubey and Carl Lewis. Ferris allowed but two hits and the locals batted Tubey for nine. Santa Barbara has thus won five games out of six in the winter league series.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THIS TIMES)

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—For the first time in its history the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers allowed at the Seventh National Automobile Show an exhibition of motorcycles. The departure was highly successful and "the poor man's automobile" received as much attention as the higher priced and higher powered vehicles of luxury. For the first time at any show also, motorcycles had a special section to themselves. They were grouped together in the cross aisle of the basement, which they entirely filled. Fourteen makes of motor cycles were on view, of which four were foreign and the rest were of American manufacture. The foreign machines were the N.S.U. from Germany; the F.M. from Belgium; the Peugeot, from France; and the Styria from Austria. The last-named machine is a new comer to the country. The standard American makes were shown in abundance, and in addition to the well-known machines, the Excelsior, the Royal and the Light, were shown for the first time.

MORE POWER.
A decided tendency towards more power was shown by the machines exhibited. The Indian, the Reading Standard, the March-Metz, and the Light appeared in double cylinder form, and in the case of makers still adhering to the single cylinder, in nearly every case the power was slightly increased. A tendency toward gear drive was also marked, several machines being fitted with the 1928 Thor equipment, having an internal gear drive, the engine and drive sprocket. The changes in price which were expected did not materialize, two makes having reduced their price slightly, while one increased, and the others remained stationary.

Of the new machines, the Styria is the most interesting. This is made at Graz, in Austria, and comes in three models. One is a 14-horse-power machine, with a 4-horse-power cylinder, both have belt drive, mechanical valves, and a new belt drive. The third model is the most interesting of all. It is a double cylinder machine, having the same mechanical characteristics as the smaller models, but it is rated at 44-horse-power. The feature of this machine is a rear axle which allows two speeds and a free engine. Changes are actuated by a lever at the conjunction of the top bar and the crank.

C. M. of Riverside is noted for knowing how to do things in the way of entertaining. They entertained the different teams with one of the heaviest half dinners known in years. The boys took a temporary lay-off from rifle practice and played a genuine game of snowball, which was a treat to the Los Angeles team especially. The different teams are planning for another shoot in the near future, which will be held at Santa Ana, providing arrangements can be made.

POLO AT RIVERSIDE.
Large Crowd Sees an Interesting Game.
Sports to Be Continued All Through Winter.

The polo season opened Saturday afternoon at Chumawa Park, when an interesting practice game was played between the Reds and Whites, made up of members of the Riverside Polo Club. It was a pretty exhibition of polo and was witnessed by a large number of society people. The Whites won, though the Reds did brilliant work at times. The team were: Whites—Arthur Holden, 1; S. F. Nave, 2; Robert Lee Bettner, 3; F. D. Hudson, 4. Reds—Roy Holland, 1; H. G. Patton, 2; W. E. Peck, 3; J. F. Peck, 4. The next game will be played Friday afternoon.

A number of Canadian and English poloists will make their headquarters in Riverside for the winter, playing with the Riverside Polo Club, and a gay season is anticipated. This sport has many devotees, and games will be played weekly at the polo field at Chumawa Park. Later in the season the California polo clubs will compete at Riverside for the handsome living cup put up two years ago by Frank J. Mackey.

PISTOL SHOOTING.
High Wind Interferes With Work of Revolver Club in Event at Bishop Street Range.

A bad wind prevented high scores at the monthly medal shoot of the Los Angeles Revolver Club, at the Bishop-street range, yesterday afternoon. W. H. C. Peck, 77; F. H. Haines, 76; J. B. Fox, 75; W. E. Smith, 74; Mrs. G. S. Stephenson, 73; J. E. Holcomb, 70; W. B. Wall, 69.

Swimming Races.
Delicate arrangements for mid-winter swimming tournament at Bimble Bath, under the auspices of the Southern California Swimming Association, will probably be completed today. Secretary Les Henry expects to have a conference with members of the association, and the terms offered for the meet and acceptance is probable. The tournament, if arranged, will be held in December and medals and trophies will be given to the swimmers taking places.

Another established make to appear with new features, is the Reading Standard. As the convertible Indy-front tank was the feature for 1927, a convertible tri-cycle is the feature for 1928. This car is built with a drop frame and a removable top bar. The new double cylinder Reading-standard is rated at 4 horse-power. It has mechanical valves and one spring in the fork, instead of two, but otherwise follows the 1927 models. A new feature for 1928 is shown in the tandem, which has been arranged so that the front rider can pedal as well as the back. The chief attraction at the N.E.U. is a non-convertible four-cylinder. This has a two-cylinder engine, rated at 6 horse-power, and is fitted with a two-speed gearbox. Another feature of the new car of the N.E.U. line is a 14 horse-power single cylinder machine which weighs only 75 pounds. This is equipped with a magneto.

The first motor cycle using a ball-bearing motor is the Merkel, which attracts a great deal of attention on account of its departure from the usual tendency of motor cycle construction. Other features of the Merkel for 1928 are greater power, and a new spring frame, used in addition to the spring frame of the previous year. The makers of the Merkel with the spring frame that they have discontinued their right to the patent and will make only one type for 1928.

Among the converts to the double cylinder is the March-Metz. The M.-M. twin is a six-horse-power machine and has the cylinders set at an angle to the frame, a much greater angle than that employed by any other manufacturer. Another departure is a double jet carburetor, with a separate adjustment for each cylinder. Last year's roadster model appears again this year with several changes—new handlebars, a new belt adjustment, a lower seat, and a new head on the cylinder, in which the valve gear is located. The new head and exhaust valve so arranged that the gases pass upward. A new model this year is known as the Special. There is a slight increase in power, and particular attention has been paid to the bearings, which have been made larger and stronger. The coil is smaller than last year and has been placed under the tank. A new form of rim is fitted to the wheels, but beyond these changes the Special is practically the same as ever.

The Peugeot, the F. N. and the Triumph are all entirely unchanged for 1928. They report a large amount of business done at the show and a still larger amount of business in prospect. All of them are sanguine concerning the future of the industry, and all predict a large increase of public interest in the "poor man's automobile."

Soccer Football.
Two teams lined up for a practice game of soccer football at Agricultural Park yesterday afternoon, chosen mostly from the members of the Los Angeles Soccer Football Association. Capt. Kitchin's team by the score of 3 goals to 2, thirty-minute halves were played.

FOR THE LADIES.

On the north wind of Thursday and Friday came the first big flight of the northern ducks. Widgones in full force, teal in bands, often numbering fifty; spoonbills in all between the big ducks, and a new army of sprigs, gladdened the clubmen in Orancho county Saturday with the best sport the season has shown since the opening shoot. Limits were knocked down everywhere. The supply seemed inexhaustible and the light kept on from 9 o'clock in the morning until long after the clubs had quit shooting; bunches of birds continued to come to the ponds from every direction. The experts predicted sport Friday afternoon, when on the ponds of the Christopher, Westminster and Canvaback clubs thousands of birds were seen. The ponds were densely populated when the hunters went to their blinds in the morning.

The coming of the widgones is always good news to the duck hunters. The spoonbills are not here in full force as yet, but those shot were in prime condition. The green-winged teal have been scarce, but from now on there may be plenty for everybody. Like the rest, they are fat and in full plumage also, making a very attractive bag.

Those who killed the limit early and went home missed the prettiest part of the shoot, which was furnished by the birds coming in at 11 o'clock and later. About 10 o'clock the wind veered in to the southwest and started the birds in a dozen times the direction of the breeze changed, it having been from the north early in the day, and the combination served to stir up a choppy turmoil outside that, no doubt, was made and the birds were in full plumage also, making a very attractive bag.

Only one gun was out on the Christopher, J. W. Morrison, and he got all the birds he wished and his friends had any use for.

There was limit shooting on the Canvaback grounds Saturday in every blind, and the week-end squad went home pleased with the sport.

On the Westminster club, Karl Klokke and F. E. Robinson both got the limit, and Adolf Swartz bagged twenty. On the Golden West, Percy Schumacher, a Red Cross man, Ed Hoffman and Myers, bagged from fourteen to twenty-six. Anderson got the limit on the Los Fatos grounds; Percy Gibbons had two ducks; his gunnery one, and Wright one. Anderson had a few bluebirds were killed on these clubs, the bulk of the birds being sprig and teal, with many widgones, and some spoonbills.

The Sunset club killed limits, the Olympic Saturday squad had a high-class shoot, and Otto Schmitt and his guest on the Little Coast made a heavy bag also.

On the Bolan Chico, the sport was better than for a month, and limits were killed freely. Even the San Pedro members had a good shoot.

On the Dominguez, Wednesday, thirteen was high. F. Taylor, Dave Burke got his usual nine. James Burke got four, and others were in about the same notch. Ed Mather, H. E. Mason, Joe and George Carson, E. A. Emmens being on hand.

On the Lomita, Otto Wilhelm got the limit yesterday, and Dr. O. F. Roller had thirty-one. Dr. A. M. Barker of San Jose, president of the Santa Clara County Game and Fish Protective Association, was his guest, and had a good shoot. He was joined by a guest, Dr. William Manning, both made good bags. Ten was the lowest score, and eighteen the highest. Plenty of birds were in evidence, even in the salt marsh.

Making a bathtub of a park lake. The Gentry Brothers' show bathing at Westlake Park.

THEIR FIRST BATH IN TWO MONTHS.

The big animals thoroughly enjoyed themselves. It was like a party of boys at a seaside resort. The playful monkeys rolled over and over in the water, amid trumpeting of delight. Satan came up behind Diamond, when the latter was unprepared and, with a mighty heave, toppled him over on his side. Diamond arose and made for his tormentor. Nero "batted in" and told his crew to behave themselves or he would make them go right home.

The crowd that lined the banks was appreciative of a wetting. Every time one of the big fellows came near the spectators would retreat as much as space allowed. But the mischievous beasts did not squirt any water on the bystanders, although the "bull-monkey" as the trainer is known in circus parlance, stated that often the elephants

DEMOCRATIC.
BRYAN'S FRIEND
BOOMS BRYAN.
THINKS ROOSEVELT ONLY MAN CAN BEAT HIM.

Says President is Really a Democrat, and that Republicans Gather in All the Thunder-Kimmerle of Michigan not Enthusiastic Over Taft as Republican Candidate.

Charles H. Kimmerle, Democratic candidate for Governor of Michigan last year, and a politician of national reputation, arrived in this city yesterday, to visit his sons, who are in business here.

"I believe Roosevelt is the only man who can defeat Bryan for the Presidency," averred Kimmerle at the Hotel

Hon. Charles H. Kimmerle.

King Edward last night. "I regard Gov. Burges of New York as the strongest Republican candidate outside of the President. La Follette is also considered a strong man in the Middle West, but, of course, you Republicans care little for the opinions of the 'enemy.' I will state with absolute conviction that William Jennings Bryan will run stronger the coming year than he ever did before, provided he is our candidate."

It is well-known that Mr. Kimmerle is very close to Bryan, and that the latter is a strong supporter of the Democratic nomination will listen with his ear close to the ground for any words from the Democratic leader in Michigan. Kimmerle is popular in his own State, and ran far ahead of his ticket last year, although he was unable to overcome the splendid Republican majority given to Gov. Warner, who is a wealthy dairyman of Pontiac.

"If you Republicans plan your faith to Taft, we Democrats may nominate Roosevelt," said the witty politician, with a smile. "I observe that Alfred Henry Lewis, the writer, advocates the nomination of Roosevelt by the Democrats. It would be a case of stealing your ammunition, would it not? I reckon we had best consider that as a poor joke, for we do not propose to go back on our leaders."

"I think it about time to give us a chance. It is not well to allow one party all the good things. But although my State is nominally Republican, she is a fine old State, and we go on just the same. I tried hard to get elected, but had no heart burnings over my defeat."

Mr. Kimmerle believes the present financial condition of the country is the worst since the war. He is a strong supporter of the Democratic nomination will listen with his ear close to the ground for any words from the Democratic leader in Michigan.

Mr. Kimmerle voted for Hendricks in the Democratic convention of 1888, and was also a delegate to the Kansas City convention of 1896. He is the son of the late Henry Kimmerle, a Cass county pioneer, who "struck it rich" in this State in 1888. He has been a lawyer, a politician, and a man of letters.

He will be one of the powers behind the throne if Bryan is nominated on the Democratic ticket.

EAT SAND, DIE.
Unaccustomed Diet Kills Cows, After Crapping Grass Start on Roots and Dirt.

Ravenously hungry for grass, four cows owned by R. A. Baker, wholesale dealer in cement, wood and feeds, with headquarters at No. 804 Pasadena avenue, not only gnawed their favorite feed to the ground, but pulled it up by the roots, swallowing whole stalks. They disregarded for the sand which clung to the roots caused their death.

The cows died last week. They were pastured on the county land in Garvanza and the grazing for a spell was excellent but the recent drought had a telling effect and the bovines soon had all of the green tops consumed. Without any symptoms of distress, the cows simply laid down and died, the first expiring on Monday of last week and the last on Saturday.

Conservatively, Mr. Baker had not died from a natural cause. Mr. Baker decided Saturday to have a post-mortem held on the last one and hired a veterinary surgeon to perform the work. The surgeon found that sand was the direct and only cause of death.

Cows have four stomachs and in the two digestive organs the surgeon found at least a half-gallon of sand. There was no way for the cows to pass it and death was certain after they swallowed enough of it.

DEATH CALLS
HER QUICKLY.

MRS. PHILLIPSON FOUND DEAD BY HER DAUGHTER.

Well-Known Pioneer Woman of Los Angeles Passes Away After Brief Illness—Many Will Miss Her Characteristic Heart and Open Purse. Prominent in Catholic Society.

Mrs. Hannah Elizabeth Phillipson, for thirty years a resident of Los Angeles, died suddenly at her home, No. 223 South Glens Avenue, yesterday morning of heart disease. Mrs. Phillipson had been ill since Friday, but her condition was not considered serious. She passed a fairly comfortable night Saturday and seemed in good spirits yesterday morning. At 11 o'clock her daughter entered her room and discovered her dead in bed.

Mrs. Phillipson was a native of Massachusetts, 72 years old. In 1871 she came to Los Angeles, and made her home here from then on. Her husband, the late Isaac Phillipson, died here twenty years ago. Mrs. Phillipson was a lifelong member of the Roman Catholic Church, and belonged to nearly all of the benevolent societies of her church. She was a woman of large means, and well able to carry out the many charitable ventures in which she was interested.

The work of the Little Sisters of the Poor interested Mrs. Phillipson greatly, and she contributed considerably toward its support. The Sacred Heart Church in East Los Angeles also profited by her generosity. In addition to these there is hardly a charity of the Roman Catholic Church in Los Angeles that has not profited by Mrs. Phillipson's bounty at one time or another, and many a poor family was relieved from distress by her generosity.

Mrs. Phillipson leaves property worth several hundred thousand dollars. Among other real estate she owned a flat building on Hope near First street, a block on Daly street at Valley, and several valuable lots on Glens Avenue. For several years she owned the northwest corner of Winston and Los Angeles streets, finally selling at a handsome figure two years ago. In addition to her real estate holdings Mrs. Phillipson was possessed of valuable securities of different kinds.

Mrs. Phillipson was a sister of Mrs. Margaret Conover, who died here several years ago. She leaves one daughter, Miss Margaret F. Phillipson. As far as is known there is no will, and as the only heir, Mrs. Phillipson will inherit the property.

Until last Friday Mrs. Phillipson had been in her usual health. On that day she suffered from a heart attack, and was ordered by her doctor to take to her bed. She evidently realized that she had not long to live, and on Friday she told her daughter that she would straighten out her business affairs, particularly the charities in which she was interested.

The date of the funeral has not been set. It will be held this week, however, at the Church of the Sacred Heart, with Rev. Father Murphy as celebrant.

TWO ARE DEAD.
Coast Division Train Kills Two Unidentified Men as They Are Walking Along the Track.
Two unidentified men were struck by train No. 18 of the Coast division of the Southern Pacific yesterday morning at 4 o'clock about two miles south of Burbank. The men were walking on the tracks, and according to the engineer, he had no head to the warning whistle of the rapidly-moving train. One was instantly killed, and the other was fatally wounded. Though the men were in plain sight some time before the train ran them down, the engineer could not stop. One of the men, turned as the train was almost upon him, and attempted to jump from the track, but was too late. He was fatally injured. The injured man and the dead body were brought to the Arroyo station, and the former was hurried to the Santa Anita Hospital, where his wounds were dressed. Both legs and his left arm were fractured. His skull was crushed, and he sustained internal injuries. He was removed to the County Hospital, where he died yesterday afternoon.

The bodies are at Santa Anita. The men were Mexican laborers, who were walking into Los Angeles. There was nothing on their clothing by which their identity can be traced. Both are aged between 30 and 40 years, are of medium height, and wore the clothing of laborers.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
SANTA BARBARA, Nov. 17.
 (Exclusive Dispatch.) South-bound freight train No. 244 on the Coast line of the Southern Pacific arriving here at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, reported the breaking open and robbing of one of the box cars of the train somewhere between San Luis Obispo and Guadalupe, early this morning. When the train reached here Constable Storni arrested six men in another box car which was loaded with prunes. The prisoners proved to be linemen out of work, and were turned loose. The contents of the robbed car were ransacked and a large quantity of Bibles and automobile gloves and other property was stolen. The car's broken seal was discovered between San Luis Obispo and Guadalupe, and railroad detectives all along the line are working on the mysterious case. The Southern Pacific only recently ended the operation of a gang of train thieves, some of whom proved to be trainmen. The robbery today is the first since that round-up.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 17.—Gen. Frederick Funston, who was here yesterday on a trip of investigation, stated that the skeleton heavy artillery batteries stationed at Fort Rosecrans will soon be recruited to their full quota of 218 men in both. No new batteries will be added.

FAVORS FOREST EXTENSION.
 Fred C. Funston, civil engineer of the United States Forestry Survey in this county, and has returned to Washington. He states that he has recommended that immediate steps be taken by the Federal government in regard to forest extension in all of the water sheds tributary to San Diego. Several private parties have offered sites for nurseries in regions where the public lands were not well situated for this purpose. Mr. Funston advocates the organization of a San Diego forestry association for practical purposes. He thinks that eucalyptus will be a profitable crop, and that it is probable fifteen years from now the production of fuel, fencing, and timber will be a leading industry.

CORN TURNED INTO HOGS.
 First Carload of Maize-fattened Pigs is Shipped from Imperial Valley.
BRAWLEY, Nov. 17.—The first carload of hogs ever fattened on corn raised in Imperial Valley was shipped to Los Angeles Saturday by Stahl Bros. The hogs were fattened on less than twelve acres of corn, which had been planted in the ground that in the same year had produced more than 2500 net per acre of cantaloupes. Imperial Valley has shipped many carloads of fat hogs to the Los Angeles market in the present year, but these were all fattened on barley. The corn produces as much per acre as Imperial Valley in the present year, but these were all fattened on barley. VENTURA POINTS.
 The people of Nordhoff and the Ojai Valley may invest with the Ventura County Power Company in order to have an electric light and power plant established in the section. A representative of the company met with the people of the valley a few days ago and stated that if the people there would subscribe for 111 shares of the preferred stock of the company at $50.00 per share, the lighting plant would be installed. This means an outlay of over $5,000 for the people. Some of the people are of the opinion they can put in a plant of their own for this sum, but they are considering the proposition and the advantages of a heavily-backed private corporation as part owners.

FOUL WOULD BE ROBBER.
Intended Victim Cries for Help and Frightens the Highwayman, Who Runs Away.

Within a block of his residence, Rev. Joseph Hall of No. 115 East Thirty-eighth street, was struck by an unknown man about 11 o'clock last night. Before the man had time to rob him Dr. Hall called for help. The approach of a group of men frightened the would-be robber, who ran.

Mr. Hall was taken to his home and the police were notified. The blow caused a contusion on the side of his head, but is not serious. It was evidently inflicted with a slingshot. Mr. Hall was unable to give a description of his assailant.

He had it in his pocket. He coughed it up the other day and spat it upon the cement floor of his cell. And this was the second bullet that he had expelled. He was also bruised on the left shoulder. The woman was taken to the Receiving Hospital for treatment.

HUNGRY FAMILY GETS A FEAST.

POLICEMAN ENTERS HOUSE OF CONTAGION.

Green Sign Caused Mother and Children to Be Practically Moored by Neighbors—Lieut. Murray Proves to Be a Good Samaritan. Help for the Afflicted.

Marooned from their neighbors, and utterly destitute, the family of Mrs. N. M. Thompson, No. 722 Kohler street, were in danger of starving yesterday when found by a patrolman. Their stretched condition was reported to Central Station, and Lieut. William Murray sent down a hamper of provisions at once. More will follow.

Mr. Thompson, the mother of Fleet Thompson, the boy who escaped recently from the County Hospital, went home and secured a meal and some fruit, and returned to the contagious ward after midnight. It was because of the second escape of the boy that the condition of the family was discovered. Fleet was traced to his home, as he yet has an unexpired term to serve in the Detention Home. He has diphtheria.

When the patrolman reached the house yesterday he found the family without a bite of food. One child was in bed with diphtheria, and Fleet was in bed with the same disease. The policeman passed the ominous green sign and entered the hitherto closed door, and found the mother weeping. She and her children had nothing to eat.

There was heartrending. The health officer ordered the green sign placed on the house, and had left the family at Kohler street, and the next bread, cakes, jelly, ham, some eggs, and a order for fresh milk, was left with the delighted mother.

There was skrimishing at Central Station yesterday afternoon. A fat basket of provision that it took two men to carry was sent to the Thompson home. The triumphant march was continued after the wagon arrived at Kohler street, and the next bread, cakes, jelly, ham, some eggs, and a order for fresh milk, was left with the delighted mother.

How I Cure Contracted Disorders of Men

Progress in the study of contracted disorders in the past few years has resulted in my advanced methods of securing permanent results. In my practice I use special methods of irrigation, and a method of my own devising for installations that cure PERMANENTLY in from 3 to 10 days. I make frequent inspections of the canal by means of a small electric light, which enables me to see and to treat each inflamed part separately, and I am also enabled to show the patient himself the conditions that actually exist. Following my treatment there are no evil after results. There is no stricture to fear, nor the slightest chance of chronic condition, but there is COMPLETE healing of the inflamed and poisoned tissue. Never use harsh injections or drastic internal remedies to stop the discharge, for if you do it is certain that in the future you will find your state worse than ever. I guarantee you a PERFECT AND A PROMPT CURE, and as well as that
